

Mercury Swing Arm Wall Lamp

AESTHOME

SPECIFICATION SHEET

DESCRIPTION

The Mercury Swing Arm Wall Lamp combines an all-metal construction with a precisely articulated frame, allowing the height, reach, and lighting angle to be adjusted with ease. Its clean architectural lines and timeless industrial character make it a refined yet practical addition to contemporary interiors. The lamp head rotates through 360 degrees, while the adjustable brightness provides comfortable illumination for different needs.

Slim tension cables work with the concealed spring mechanism to keep every movement smooth, balanced, and secure. Easily positioned above a bed, beside a reading chair, or over a desk, the lamp directs light exactly where it is needed while leaving valuable surface space free. Its exceptional flexibility makes it an ideal choice for reading, working, or relaxed ambient lighting.
