AESTHOME

SPECIFICATION SHEET

DESCRIPTION

The Round Shell Windbell Chandelier brings together light, texture, and gentle movement in a striking tiered silhouette. Polished metal rings form its sculptural framework, while cascading strands of translucent natural shell discs overlap at varying lengths, creating a soft, rhythmic composition reminiscent of delicate wind chimes.

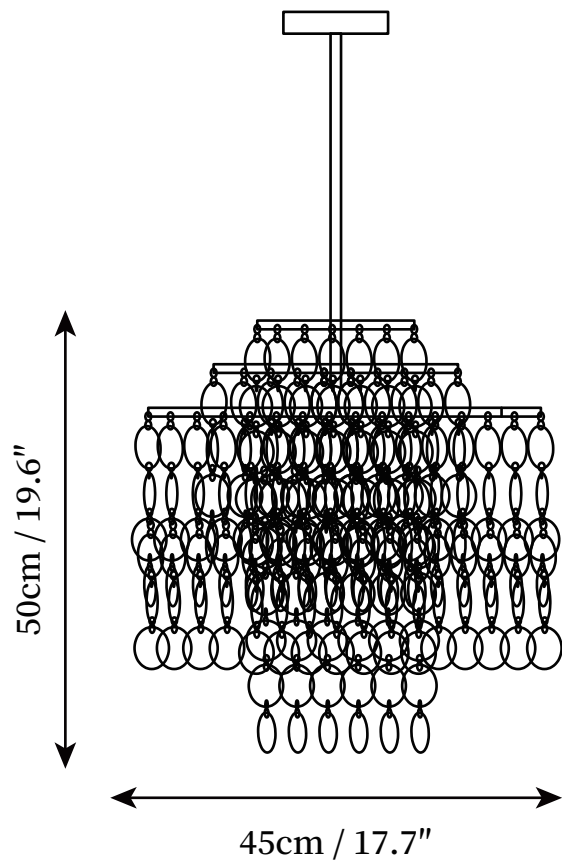

When illuminated, the shells filter and reflect the light through their pearlescent surfaces, revealing subtle variations in tone and texture. The result is a warm, atmospheric glow accompanied by shifting highlights across the ceiling and surrounding walls. Airy yet visually captivating, it makes an elegant statement above a dining table or within a living room, entryway, or other open interior.
